Agriculture in the Classroom provides elementary (K-5) teachers and middle school science (6-8) workshops throughout the Commonwealth. Hands-on activities, grade level appropriate lesson plans, and other resource materials are available to workshop participants. These can be combined with current curriculum so students can learn about agriculture while also achieving the Virginia Standards of Learning.

Free Registration

Workshops incorporate:

- ◇ An opportunity to review Agriculture in the Classroom's SOL-aligned curriculum
- ◇ Facts about agriculture in Virginia which impact food production and harvest
- ◇ Appropriate hands-on activities designed for use in elementary and middle school science classrooms
- ◇ Distribution of lesson plans, a class set of Virginia agricultural maps, and many more unique resources free of charge.
- ◇ All workshop participants receive an array of free resources valued at over $100.00
